CN Guidance's Golf Outing Drives Support for Thousands Seeking Mental Health and Substance Use Treatment

(Smithtown, NY) CN Guidance & Counseling Services hosted its 26th Annual Golf Outing on Monday July 20th at Stonebridge Golf Links & Country Club, bringing together a strong network of supporters, including leaders from Long Island businesses, civic organizations, and behavioral health agencies. The event celebrated community champions, raised critical funds, and reinforced CN Guidance's mission of providing life-changing mental health and substance use treatment and prevention services to thousands of Long Islanders each year.

This year's honorees were Sal Ferro, founder of the Ferro Foundation and former Huntington Town Councilman, and Christina Goerler (pictured above 2nd from right), Senior Account Executive at LDI Connect. Both were recognized for their longstanding commitment to strengthening communities, advancing behavioral health initiatives, and supporting CN Guidance's efforts to improve access to care.

"Events like our annual golf outing demonstrate the incredible generosity and commitment of our community," said Jeffrey Friedman, CEO of CN Guidance & Counseling Services. "We are deeply grateful to our sponsors, supporters, volunteers, and honorees whose dedication helps us provide essential services to individuals and families across Long Island. Their support will have a meaningful impact on the lives of thousands of people seeking help and hope."

For more than two decades, the annual golf outing has served as one of CN Guidance's premier fundraising events, bringing together community leaders, advocates, and partners in support of behavioral health care. Proceeds from the outing help fund programs that provide counseling, treatment, prevention, crisis services, and recovery support for children, adults, and families throughout Long Island.
